Full-stack and front-end web developer with an immense attention to detail and an artistic focus.

I have spent the last 8 years developing websites, web applications and mobile apps professionally. I have an educational and early professional background in visual effects for television. I combine my creative and engineering skills to make great websites and applications.

Experience

Senior Software Developer

MedMen

Jul 2012 – Present

Senior software developer for one of the nation's largest medical marijuana business management companies. Since inception, developed an inventory management, point of sale, grow tracking, and manufacturing system for medical marijuana facilities in California, Nevada, and New York. Integrated the software with multiple types of retail and industrial printers. Built the company's websites as well as the menu app used on iPads inside all of its stores.
